DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Oath/Declaration

- ✓ 2. The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because: The declaration indicates that there is a sole inventor when there is actually joint inventors.

Drawings

3. The drawings filed on 10o December 1998 are subject to correction of the informalities indicated on the attached "Notice of Draftperson's Patent Drawing Review," PTO-948. In order to avoid abandonment of this application, correction is required.
- ✓ 4. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the automatic teller machine comprising a processor, memory, screen display, user input means, card reader and storage medium as recited in claim 12 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim. Also, the numeric keypad, function keys or touch screen as recited in claim 14 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim. No new matter should be entered.
5. Applicant is required to submit a proposed drawing correction in reply to this Office action. However, formal correction of the noted defect can be deferred until the application is allowed by the examiner.

Art Unit: 2761

Specification

6. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the text in line 17 is unclear "the or each application". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
- / 7. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The text on page 3, line 7 "and the or each application" is unclear. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

8. Claims 1-4, 7, 11 and 13 are objected to because of the following informalities: The text in the following claims is unclear:
- / Claim 1, line 12 (the or each application)
 - / Claim 2, line 10 (or the or each application), line 15 (the or each filter) and line 17 (and the or each application)
 - / Claim 3, line 2 (the or each filter)
 - / Claim 4, line 2 (the or each filter), line 3 (the or each application), line 4 (the or each application) and line 8 (the or each filter)
 - / Claim 7, line 2 (the or each filter) and line 5 (the or each filter)
 - / Claim 11, line 2 (the or each filter)
 - / Claim 13, line 4 (the or each filter)
- Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

9. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2761

10. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saadeh et al, EP 0520766 A2.

As per claim 1, Saadeh et al disclose a "transaction processing system in which a transaction manager is responsive to transaction requests from one or more applications and a service provider layer is adapted to relay transaction requests passed from the transaction manager to associated hardware for execution" (Col. 3, lines 42-58) and a "filter module being adapted to intercept transaction requests from the transaction manager to the service provider layer and to process the requests and to intercept transaction responses from the service provider layer to the transaction manager and to process the responses" (Col. 16 line 25-Col. 17 line 20 and Figure 6).

As per claim 2, Saadeh et al disclose a "transaction processing system including a transaction manager running in a first process and responsive to transaction requests from one or more application, a service provider layer...each application" (Col. 3, lines 42-58) and "one or more filter modules...process the responses" (Col. 16 line 25-Col. 17 line 20 and Figure 6).

As per claim 3, Saadeh et al further disclose wherein the filter module is adapted to process the requests and responses by recording them in a log (Col. 16 line 25-Col. 17 line 20 and Figure 6).

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 4-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

12. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

As per claim 4, the prior art of record taken either individually or in combination fails to teach or suggest wherein the filter module, transaction manager and application has an associated identifier and wherein the application is adapted to include the identifier of the application or the transaction manager to which transaction responses are to be relayed by the service provider layer in a transaction request and the filter module be adapted to replace the identifier in at least some transaction requests with the identifier of the filter module so that responses to the requests from the service provider layer are relayed to the filter module. The specific allowable feature, which distinguishes the present invention over the prior art is the filter module being adapted to replace the identifier with the identifier of the filter module. Claims 5-8 are dependent upon claim 4 and thus have all the limitations of claim 4 and are allowable for that reason.

As per claim 9, the prior art of record taken either individually or in combination fails to teach or suggest a transaction processing system as recited in claim 2 wherein one of the applications is a web browser adapted to run a web application, the web application including one or more web pages. The specific allowable feature, which distinguishes the present invention over the prior art is the combination of a web application with the transaction processing system as recited in claim 2.

As per claim 10, the prior art of record taken either individually or in combination fails to teach or suggest wherein the transaction processing system cooperates with a registry and wherein the service provider is adapted to be registered in the registry and the transaction manager is adapted to call the service provider modules by using information obtained by a lookup process performed on the registry. Claim 11 is dependent upon claim 10 and thus has all the limitations of claim 10 and is allowable for that reason.

As per claim 12, the prior art of record taken either individually or in combination fails to teach or suggest an automatic teller machine specifically including the transaction processing system as recited in claim 2 and the ATM further comprising the elements recited in claim 12. The specific allowable feature, which distinguishes the present invention over the prior art is the combination of a ATM with the transaction processing system as recited in claim 2. Claims 13 and 14 are dependent upon claim 12 and thus have all the limitations of claim 12 and are allowable for that reason.

Conclusion

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Art Unit: 2761

- Grant et al disclose an apparatus for completing a customer initiated ATM transaction and teach a transaction processing system including a transaction manager and a service provider layer
- Burt et al disclose an architecture that includes an operations gateway defined by a number of agents that take responsibility for accomplishing support system related functions including financial transaction functions.
- Watanabe et al disclose a transaction tracing apparatus which conducts transaction processing in an arrangement wherein a server and a plurality of clients are connected via a transmission path in which transmission information is exchanged. The tracing apparatus is comprised of a trace control module and a filter creation module for creating extraction filters and analysis filters to be employed for extraction of specific data.
- Sato et al disclose an ATM including a transaction recording means
- Eaton et al disclose a multi-transaction service system comprising a plurality of service request and supply channels each comprising channel-specific hardware and software and an integrated channel manager arranged to provide multiple interface layers including at least one application service connectable to any channel.
